Subject: Scholarship Recommendation

I am writing to you to recommend [redacted] for your scholarship program. Cadet [redacted] has been a member of Civil Air Patrol for 2 ½ years. In that time he has worked his way up in our Cadet program and is now currently a Flight Commander. Cadet [redacted] is a very enthusiastic and motivated cadet. He also has a great interest in Aerospace, with a specific interest in becoming a pilot, and has been advocate for expanding our current aerospace curriculum to include getting our cadets in a ground school program and reviving our rocketry program. Cadet [redacted] is a great asset to our program, and I hope to see him continue in his education in aerospace.

Please consider Cadet [redacted] for this scholarship.

Respectfully,
Deborah M. Azzopardi, 1Lt, CAP
Deputy Commander for Cadets
Squadron 14

My personal Career Goal statement

01/12/08

Hi, I am _____ and my personal career goal is to become a pilot in the Air Force. I am thinking of becoming a cargo pilot flying C-130 or KC-135, or at least something big and related to a heavy aircraft. I have dreamed of this career since I was in the kinder garden and now I am trying hard to get an Air Force ROTC scholarship for a four colleges or university. I plan on completing a bachelor's degree so I can come out of college to become an officer in the Air Force.

Currently I am a full time student in Sacramento City College taking general ed. (my first year). My first Semester it took it slow and had only 5 units completed. This new semester I'm taking 12 units and will take it more seriously than my first semester. Besides college I am also attending a CAP (Civil Air Patrol), it is a volunteering organization that has cadets and teaches them kind of like ROTC does, but CAP is a actual auxiliary of an Air Force and we also do most of the Air Force's rescue missions. I have been attending this program for over two years now and currently a Cadet Senior Master Sergeant, two more promotions and I will be a Cadet Officer which is 2nd Lt., (my job position SQ 14 A Flight commander, I am in charge of about 15 cadets ages 12-17, my job is to teach them leadership, military courtesies, traditions and many more) I can't wait to get promoted to a cadet officer because I know it means more leadership responsibilities and it actually helps if I were to enlist in the Air Force because I would go straight to a Senior airman which is three stripes while all others stay just airmen with one stripe. All of that Civil Air Patrol is giving me a great experience about the military, I already feel like it gave me a bunch of confidence and motivation to become an officer in one of the greatest armed forces in the world.

I am planning on becoming a pilot so I have to be an officer, meaning four years of college focusing on math, science, aeronautics, physics, chemistry and god knows what. I also have an aviation related hobby which I have been doing since seventh grade. I built and fly RC (remote controlled) planes. I have personally built about 15 model planes and now crashed nearly all of them. It is a fun and very expensive hobby which I recently decided to stop doing until I'll retire and have time and money for it. Now I am focusing more on my education and job to pay for it all. By the way I am also working part time at a local supermarket store called Raley's. As you see I am a busy student who does quite have perfect grades but has a great dedication and commitment to succeed in his future career. I will work very hard on becoming a pilot no matter how hard it will be I will be

As a former student of River City High School, [redacted] has been taking school seriously and progressed in science and math classes to the best of his abilities. As far as I know [redacted] has a great interest in aviation career and wants to be a pilot. He is also planning to apply in to the Air Force ROTC during his college transfer to SUC or other military related university. As his former teacher I highly recommend [redacted] for this scholarship, I believe his hard work and great potential will take him where he is going.
